

Temporary Changes for Trainee Healing Mediums

With effect from 18 Jun 20

All trainee healing mediums can count distant healing sessions in their logbooks. The restrictions of no more than two per week and no more than 25% being the same person still apply.

Distant healing counting towards the fifty practical sessions in the logbook will continue until 'Social Distancing' regulations cease.

If they are a 'Supervised Trainee' they can self-certify (sign their own logbook) until their church or IM supervisor restarts public healing. They will then revert to being supervised.

All DC training days can be conducted online. Go to: <https://www.snu.org.uk/FAQs/healing-review-dates> for dates and contact details.

For healing upgrade assessments, it is now to be one contact and three distant treatments. For the contact treatment the trainee must take with them someone from their own household or 'extended social bubble' to be their contact patient (this person could be a distant patient for other trainees). This will continue until 'Social Distancing' regulations cease.
